An Important Matter.

Druggists everywhere report that the sales of the Restorative Nervine—a nerve food and medicine—are astonishing, exceeding anything they ever had, while it gives universal satisfaction in headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, sexual debility, headache, poor memory, fits, dizziness, etc. L. Burton & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Ambrey & Murphy, of Battle Creek, Mich.; C. B. Woodworth & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., and hundreds of others state that they never handled any medicine, which sold so rapidly or gave such satisfaction. Trial bottles of this great medicine and book on Nervous Diseases, free at J. W. Gayle's, who guarantees and recommends it.

Among the Colored Citizens.

Mr. Chas. Mosley left Tuesday for Indianapolis, Ind., Chicago and other points on an extended visit to friends.

Quite a number of our people called to see Dr. Underwood's newly furnished office Sunday.

We have allowed ourselves to be indifferent to the advancement of our race too long already. One of the moves necessary to that end is a literary society, and an attempt will be made to organize one at the First Independent Baptist Church Friday night of next week, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present. Let no one fail to come.

The Industrial Legion Lodge held a meeting Wednesday for the purpose of electing a delegate to the State Grand Lodge, which meets in Louisville next July. Mr. Edward Lane was elected on the first ballot, after which he addressed the Lodge and invited all present to partake of a repast which he had spread for them.

The choir of the St. John's Church continues to improve, and we can say without fear of contradiction that it is the finest in the city. There has been quite an addition to the choir in the past few weeks, and the members of the church are very proud of their fine singing.

Next week there will be a meeting of the colored voters of the city and county which will be a Republican love feast. Let all who can be present. The time and place will be announced from the Churches Sunday night.

Prof. Monroe, of the Normal School, gave one of his entertainments at the First Independent Baptist Church last night. We go to press too early to give any particulars.

Had Sunday been made to order the weather could not have been more propitious for the baptizing of the recent additions to the First Independent Baptist Church. Out of the eighty who were to be baptized fifty responded. There was a large crowd present, but no disorder whatever.

Failures in Life.

People fail in many ways. In business, in morality, in religion, in happiness, and in health. A weak heart is often an unexpected cause in failure in life. If the blood does not circulate properly in the lungs, there is shortness of breath, asthma, etc.; in the brain, dizziness, headache, etc.; in the stomach, wind, pain, indigestion, faint spells, etc.; in the liver, torpidity, congestion, etc. Pain in the left side of the stomach is caused by heart strain. For all these maladies Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Weak Lungs is the best remedy. Sold, guaranteed and recommended by J. W. Gayle, Frankfort, Ky. Treatise free.

Quality Corner.

Mr. L. P. Huette and wife, of Benson, visited the family of Mr. H. J. Huette last Sunday.

Miss Maggie R. Semones, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is improving at the present writing.

Messrs. Budge Moore and Jack Huette, visited friends near Toga last Sunday. Jack has relatives up there to visit, but as for Budge we can't give any reason. Perhaps Miss Huette can tell you, as his visits are very frequent and of a lasting nature.

Mr. Sode Moore has moved to his new residence and is prepared to entertain his many friends and relatives who may call on him.

LITTLE SUE.

A Prominent Doctor Accused of Murder!

A gentleman recently made a startling accusation in the hearing of the writer. Said he, "I firmly believe that Dr. —, intentionally or unintentionally, killed my wife. He pronounced her complaint Consumption—incurable. She accepted the verdict, and—died. Yet since then I have heard of at least a dozen cases, quite as far advanced as hers, that have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Her life might have been saved, for Consumption is not incurable." Of course it is not. The "Discovery" will remove every trace of it, if taken in time and used faithfully. Consumption is a disease of the blood—a serious affection—and the "Discovery" strikes at the root of the evil. For all cases of weak lungs, spitting of blood, severe lingering coughs and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

WE CAN AND DO

Guarantee Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. The finance committee made the following report, which was adopted: To the Board of Council of the City of Frankfort, Ky.:

Your finance committee find themselves confronted with the important and serious task of laying the tax levy for the present year, and desire to present the subject to your body in such a manner as to show the requirements to be met, and the only method known to us to meet them in the best interests of the city and according to business principles. Inclosed is a careful estimate of the demands which the city must meet during the next twelve months, in order to pay the floating debt now outstanding and provide for the ordinary running expenses of the city government:

Streets $5,000
Paupers 1,500
Fire Department 4,500
Interest (Midland bonds, bank interest, etc.) 6,500
Gas-lights 1,700
Salaries 4,810
Police 5,300
Bridge 200
Tax Rebate 800
Water 6,350
Miscellaneous 1,000
Printing Ordinances 250
Note in State National Bank dated Nov. 1, 1890 5,000
Note in Branch Bank dated dated Feb. 13, 1891 5,000
Overdraft 3,000
State of Kentucky due Dec. 31, 1890 4,350
Police Court 600
White School Fund 4,000
Colored School Fund 2,000
Total 61,780

We recommend that there be no levy for the maintenance of the white school the present year for the reason that, after a careful examination of the receipts and expenses of this fund for the past year, we find there will be sufficient means to meet expenses without a special levy. This amount is derived from State fund, interest on school (lottery) bonds, and balance on hand at credit at this time. This examination of its resources shows that, with the same expenditure that was made for its support the past twelve months, the above mentioned resources will fully meet the demands and leave a balance at the expiration of the school-year ending June 30th, 1892.

But should there arise, from any cause, a necessity for a larger sum to maintain said school in the efficient administration of its beneficent purpose, we unhesitatingly assert that the means will be readily appropriated from any funds on hand at the time the demand arises. We believe this course is justified by the necessities upon us from other sources, and when understood, will fully satisfy the most ardent advocates of our common school system, among whom the undersigned committee are numbered.

With the above exhibit and assurance, we feel that it is unnecessary to further elaborate this branch of this report.

The Colored School is amply provided for, having at present about $1,000 at credit to its credit, besides being supported by the entire tax collected from colored persons in the city.

These school interests properly provided for, we are called upon to meet only the requirements set forth in the estimate above, unless perhaps some new obligation should arise, which we trust will not be the case during the present year.

To meet the above demands we are forced to recommend that the tax levy for the present year be made $1.60, for revenue, which alone will not fully realize an amount sufficient to meet these estimated expenses, but which we trust will be ample after it is supplemented by interest due on bonds, and the prudent forethought of back taxes. Our apology for the recommendation of the above large tax levy is that the same is about the only method known to us to meet its obligations promptly, and that no tax levy should be made which will not enable the council to pay the interest on the bonds, and thus avoid the payment of bank interest, which has already required too great an expenditure of the public funds.

Another reason for this tax levy is found in the recently formed Constitution of the State, which provides that after the present year the tax levy of cities in the class with Frankfort shall be limited to the amount of 75 cents on the one hundred dollars to meet its current expenses. We believe that prudent forethought demands that we should make all needful preparation the present year, by extending our floating debt, and endeavoring to place the city finances in the best possible condition for the untold resources of the city which the new constitution will necessitate. We trust that by the application of strict business principles in the management of the city affairs, an economical expenditure of its funds, and a close scrutiny of all accounts, that the expiration of the present year will find the city with all accounts paid up, with no bank debt, and ready to adjust itself to the schedule imposed by the new State Constitution.

J. W. PAYNE,
J. S. DARNELL,
R. R. PARSONS,
Finance Committee.

Mr. Darnell moved that the tax books be placed in the hands of the treasurer at the earliest moment practicable, and that a rebate of 3 per cent be allowed all who pay their taxes before June 1. Adopted.

Mayor Mangan stated that the Midland bonds and stock had been received and placed with the Safety Vault and Trust Company, subject to the order of the council.

The council adjourned until next regular meeting.

For years the editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has been subject to camp colic or fits of indigestion, which prostrated him for several hours and unfitted him for business for two or three days. For the past year he has been using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy whenever occasion required, and he has invariably given him prompt relief. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. GAYLE. 30-in.

To the Democracy of Franklin County:

In response to the urgent requests of many good men from all parts of Franklin County, I realize the importance of the next session to our county and town, and also the fact that we should be represented by the best men in the county for the place. On this account I hesitated to make this announcement, hoping that some one of more ability and who would receive the support of both the town and county people, would be suggested. I have given the nomination and elected, I will do my best to serve my county.

I will be glad to meet the other candidates at such times and places as they may suggest, and discuss the important questions that will probably come before the next Legislature.

THOS. W. VIOLETT,
Chairman.

The promptness and certainty of its cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is indicated especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the most effectual remedy known for these diseases. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. GAYLE. 30-in.

A CHILD KILLED.
Another child killed by the use of opium given in the form of Boobing Syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising, when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or morphine. $2.15 by J. W. GAYLE, Druggist.

Specimen Cases.
S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Harrodsburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large boils on his back, and sores on his face. He was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by the South Side drug store.

THE GERM DESTROYER.

In the field of discovery and invention medicine has not kept pace with surgery. That, perhaps, is natural; surgery is the more advanced branch of medicine. The general acceptance of the germ theory of diseases, however, opens a new field for medicine, and will take it completely away from the medieval superstition that still clings to its skirts. And yet medicine is not without its discoveries. It has long been known and the fact is now recognized wherever the test has been made, that Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) will destroy the germs of malarial diseases, the microbes of skin diseases, and the bacilli of contagious and other forms of blood poisoning, ejects them from the blood and purifies and builds up the system. No medical discovery of our day has achieved such remarkable success.

FRANKFORT, APRIL 18, 1891.

The Capital Permanently Located.

After a hundred years of strife and contention over the location of the Capital of Kentucky it was a wise and graceful thing in the Constitutional Convention to put an end to the controversy by permanently locating the Capital at Frankfort by the overwhelming vote of 57 to 34. The members of the convention felt that a hundred years of fruitless contention over this subject was quite enough, and in spirit of justice, and guided alone by motives looking to the public good, raised themselves into the empire of exalted statesmanship and by a vote bordering on unanimity commanded the peace between the warring sections of the State with a voice that will be respected and approved from the Big Sandy to Hickman, and from the Ohio river to the Tennessee line, and the man or the city attempting to renew this vexed question again, during the next century, will be regarded by all as a disturber of the public peace, and on enemy to the progress and welfare of the State.

This same question was distinctly submitted to the people of Kentucky when the Constitution was adopted in 1792, and again in 1850, and now again in 1891, and the verdict each time was in favor of the little city of Frankfort, where the heroes and statesmen of Kentucky, for a hundred years, lie sleeping in their narrow houses in the Cemetery on the hill. The State House and the Arsenal and the Penitentiary might have been put upon wheels and carried away to Lexington or Louisville, but the heroic memories of Theodore Clark, young Clay and McKee and all that host of patriots who established and gave to Kentucky her enduring fame, could not be taken away from the beautiful cemetery at Frankfort, where their bodies lie moldering in the grave—where their noble deeds are inscribed on their monuments, and where their immortal spirits still hover in the air to guard the repose of the dead and the honor of the State. It required statesmanship of the most exalted character to recognize both the injustice and the impossibility of removing the entire capital away from Frankfort, but the good people of Kentucky may now congratulate themselves, and their children and their children's children to the latest generation, that the great Constitutional Convention was equal to the emergency of the occasion; and the spirits of the heroic dead no doubt rejoice that the glowing memories and sacred dust over which they have charge have not been disturbed.

Frankfort fully recognizes that it was pardonable ambition on the part of any other city or town to desire to possess so rich a treasure as the capital of the noble and historic State of Kentucky, and bows her thanks in becoming modesty, in this her hour of triumph, to every member of the Convention as well as to every citizen of the State for the great honor thus for the third and last time so handsomely conferred upon her; and her people feel and willingly give expression to the thought, that they would be unworthy of the rich treasure thus confided to their keeping, were they to fail to make the sincere announcement on this great, and to them especially, most agreeable occasion that they desire above all things else the permanent repose and prosperity of the entire Commonwealth, and that they cherish no ill-will against those whose natural and laudable ambition prompted them to contest for the location of Kentucky's proud capital elsewhere than at Frankfort—that we have no enemies to punish but earnestly desire to co-operate in the most friendly spirit with the good people of every section of the State for the purpose of building up the waste places of our grand old Commonwealth for the common good. Here is the friendly hand of the victor to all who were unsuccessful in the contest.

Death of Mrs. Shepard.

Mrs. Eliza Shepard, formerly of Georgetown, died at the residence of her son, Mr. S. S. Shepard, on Todd street, Monday afternoon, after a brief illness. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon and the remains were taken to Georgetown for interment.

Green Old Age.

Mrs. Margaret Holeman, widow of the late W. B. Holeman, celebrated her 87th birthday on Wednesday. She is enjoying remarkably good health for one of her years and her friends wish her many returns of the day.

The Great Swimmer Coming.

On Sunday, April 20th, Capt. Paul Boyton will give one of his full aquatic exhibitions at the new station, on the Kentucky Midland Railroad. Special trains will be run from both Frankfort and Paris. Train will leave Frankfort at 2:30 p. m. for the round trip $30 cts. including admission.

Repairing the Bridge.

The L. & N. Railroad Company are repairing their bridge across the river at this point, putting in new floor timbers, &c., and for that purpose tore up the floor of the bridge on Monday afternoon. Since that time all the travel between this city and Bellepoint has been over the St. Clair street bridge and around the river road. Many persons were caught Monday evening, who went down to the bridge, were not permitted to cross, and had to go all the way around the other route.

Knocked From His Wheel.

Messrs. J. T. Corley and H. C. Hall, two bicyclists from Pleasureville, came Saturday night and spent Sunday in this city for the purpose of taking a run over the pikes in this vicinity. Sunday afternoon they started to Versailles in company with Mr. Minus Williams, Jr., and others, and when about a mile beyond Jett Station, in coasting down hill, Mr. Williams ran into Mr. Corley, knocking him from his wheel, throwing him against a plank fence and so badly injuring his arm that he will not be able to use it for several weeks. The party returned to this city, where Mr. Corley's injuries were dressed by Dr. Duval, and he returned home Monday.

G. A. R. Meeting.

The annual meeting of the State Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps will be held in this city on the 29th of this month. Some two or three hundred delegates will be in attendance and the sessions will be held in the Opera House. The meeting is for the purpose of transacting the usual routine business and the election of officers. Among those most prominently spoken of for the office of Grand Commander are Col. S. G. Hillis, Representative in the late Legislature from Lewis county, Gen. E. H. Hobson, of Greensburg, and Lewis, of Newport. There will be no grand parade during the meeting, though the delegates will be escorted from the train upon their arrival, by a committee of A. G. Bacon Post and a band of music.

Won the Honors.

Mr. John M. Stevenson, of Georgetown, formerly of this city, who represented Georgetown College in the Kentucky Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Contest at Lexington on Friday evening of last week, was awarded the honor of delivering the best oration. His subject was: "Conservatism and Reform in Government." The Lexington Opera House was crowded. The Judges were: Gen. Lab Duke, of Louisville; Judge W. T. Lafferty, of Cynthiana; and Prof. Maurice Kirby, of Louisville.

On his return to Georgetown Saturday afternoon, Mr. Stevenson was met at the depot by some of his enthusiastic College chums with an open hack and a brass band. A procession was formed and the College boys, wearing their colors—green and pink—marched down town, giving on the way the College yell for the benefit of their friends who hadn't the opportunity to hear it at Lexington.

The Kentucky University announced several days ago that this would be the last contest in which its students would participate, giving as reasons that it interfered with studies, had a tendency for leading the students to drinking, gambling, etc.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.

Mrs. Mary Cox Passes Away in Her Hundredth Year.

Mrs. Mary Cox, widow of the late Jacob Cox, and mother of Mr. L. J. Cox, died at her home near Steadman, this county, on Friday of last week. She was at the time of her death perhaps the oldest person in Central Kentucky, having been born on the 22d of December, 1791. As the result of an attack of rheumatism, she had been confined to bed for twenty-three years, but never murmured nor forgot to yield obedience to what she conceived to be the will of her God. She was a devout Catholic and twice received the last rites of the Church, the first time recovering from what seemed the very jaws of death and lived some five years longer.

Notwithstanding she had been an invalid for so many years. Mrs. Cox preserved her vitality to such a degree as to appear much younger than she really was. Her face was almost without wrinkles, and her skin as soft and eyes as bright as in middle age. She took great interest in current events, even the style of dress coming in for part of her attention.

In anticipation of reaching the one hundredth anniversary of her birth, on the 22d of next December, she had planned for a reunion on that occasion, and had herself arranged all the details necessary for such a meeting—designating, besides her numerous descendants and other relatives, many old friends whom she desired to have present.

Up to the commencement of her last illness, several weeks ago, her health had been excellent for years, and while considered dangerously sick for the first two weeks of her recent attack, her vitality and recuperative powers were such that she appeared in a fair way to recover, until within a few hours of her death, when she suffered a severe relapse, and rapidly passed away.

The funeral took place on Sunday and the remains were laid to rest in the Cemetery in this city.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known. 30-in.

Death of Mrs. Pilkington.

Geo. W. Bain III.

Col. Geo. W. Bain, the celebrated temperance lecturer and father-in-law of Rev. H. C. Morrison, formerly of this city, was taken very ill in Pennsylvania last week and had to be brought to his home in Lexington, where he is improving slowly.

Sold His Farm.

Mr. M. Luther Crutcher sold his farm on Tuesday to Mr. Stephen Black, for $8,000. There is about 82 acres in the tract and the land lies three miles from this city on the Georgetown pike, just across the pike from Mr. Black's place. It will be occupied by Howard Black. Mr. Crutcher will probably locate in the west.

Protect Your Health.

Cold and moisture combined have a torpore effect upon the bodily organs, and the digestive and excretory processes are more tardily performed in winter than in the fall. The same is true, also, of the excretory functions. The bowels are often sluggish, and the system is clogged with waste matter at this season. The system, therefore, requires opening up a little, and also purifying and regulating, and the easiest, safest and most thorough tonic and alternative that can be used for these purposes is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Persons who wish to escape the rheumatic twinges, the dyspeptic agonies, the painful disturbances of the bowels, the bilious attacks, and the nervous irritations, so common at this time of the year, will do well to reinforce their system with this renowned vegetable stomachic and invigorant. It improves the appetite, strengthens the stomach, clears the spirits, and restores the whole physique.

Change of Location.

Messrs. C. E. Collins & Bro. have opened a new hardware store at the old Gwin stand, on the corner of Main and Lewis streets, next to the State National Bank, where they have an entirely new and fresh stock of hardware, wall paper, &c. About the first of July they will give up their store on Broadway and remove their entire business to their new store. Until that time the stock in the old house will be sold off at greatly reduced prices, and persons wishing bargains in their line should call at once.

Adjourned.

After having been in session seven months, the Constitutional Convention adjourned on Saturday until the 2d of September. The new Constitution, which they have prepared, will be submitted to a vote of the people at the August election, and 200,000 copies of it have been ordered printed for distribution so that the people may inform themselves of its provision before voting upon it.

The points of the new instrument are as follows: Prohibition of local and special legislation by the General Assembly; prohibition of lotteries; adoption of secret ballot; remedy of the evil of frequent elections; the control of corporations; reform in taxation and exemptions; a barrier to extravagant public expenditures, and provisions for the better administration of Government—State, county and municipal—reduction of the Grand Jury from sixteen to twelve, three fourths verdict in jury case authorized, convicts not to be worked outside of the prison walls, provision for a reformatory for juvenile offenders, constitutional recognition given to the Railroad Commission, prohibition of the State and counties and municipalities to aiding railroads or other corporations except to build turnpikes, gravel roads and bridges; the elimination of the slavery section.

The Constitution was signed only by the President and Secretary of the Convention.

The Merriest Girl that's Out.

"Bonnie sweet Bessie, the maid of Dundee," was, no doubt, the kind of a girl to ask, "What are the wild waves saying?" or to put "A little faded flower" in your button hole, she was so full of vivacity and bounding with robust health. Young girls in their teens, passing the age of puberty, find it a great aid. Messrs. Crutcher & Starks' are giving away with every cash sale of ten dollars one of Ehel's nestable dinner pail's, which is one of the most convenient contrivances for working men, fishermen and others who desire to take a lunch with them, we have ever seen. It is composed of several separate dishes, and when empty can easily and quickly be put together in a very small and convenient package. When full the dishes and covers are so firmly joined together that nothing can spill or the different eatables become mixed, if the pail upset. It also has a coffee flask and cup. Drop into Messrs. Crutcher & Starks' and examine them; they are the greatest trick out.

Prof. Samuel P. Browder, Superintendent of the Public Schools of this city, died Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. While it was known that Prof. Browder was seriously ill his death was unexpected, and the announcement that his spirit had winged its flight produced universal regret and sadness. He had been a sufferer for many years from asthma, and early in February was attacked with gripe from which he had been confined to the house. On Wednesday he was feeling so much better that he arose, went out and walked about his yard for a short time, when he took fresh cold, causing his disease to take the form of droupy, producing his death as above stated.

Prof. Bowder was born in 1830, near Middletown, in Jefferson county, and was raised in Louisville, where early in life he commenced the profession of teaching. In September, 1868, when the Frankfort Public School was organized, he was elected its first Superintendent, which position he continued to hold up to the time of his death. Being a splendid teacher and admirable organizer, under his able management the school soon took rank as one of the best in the State, a reputation it has continued to maintain. He possessed the faculty of imparting knowledge to the young in an eminent degree, and few men in the State stood higher than he as educators. He was deeply devoted to the educational interests of the city and State and suffered an irreparable loss.

He leaves a widow and four children—Mrs. W. S. Saffell, Miss Mary and Mr. George Browder, of this city, and Mrs. H. M. Stucky, of Louisville, to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence on Shelby street, and the remains will be interred in the Cemetery here.

The Board of School Trustees was in session when Professor Browder's death occurred and as soon as the sad news reached them the following resolutions were prepared and adopted:
